Cissus plantation program by Botany Department

21.11.2023

Brief Report: The Botany department at GDC, Nandikotkur, organized a Cissus Plantation Program on November 21, 2023, at 12:00 noon within the college campus. Dr. T Shali Saheb, a Lecturer in Botany, led the program with enthusiastic participation from II B.Sc. students who actively planted cissus plants. Smt Sarojamma, a non-teaching staff member in Botany, also played an active role.

During the program, Dr. T Shali Saheb explained the significance of cissus plants to the students, highlighting their uses, such as benefits for arthritis, assistance in healing bone fractures, support for post-exercise recovery by potentially reducing inflammation, and contribution to overall health by neutralizing free radicals in the body.
